Harriman Has 'No Obligation' To Back Adlai

Says He Doesn't Feel Man Of His Age Too Old For Presidency

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says he has "no obligation" to support Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, despite past statements in Stevenson's favor.

At the same time, he said he himself is not and has not been a candidate for the nomination. He commented, however, that he does not believe a man of his age — he will be 64 next month — is too old to be president.

"Understand Each Other"

After saying he has no obligation to support Stevenson, he said he and the 1952 Democratic candidate "understand each other fully."

Asked if he felt "morally bound" by what he has said in the past, Harriman replied:

"No, not at all morally bound. I have said I was for Adlai but I never said I was going to support him at the convention."

Harriman, who bid for the presidential nomination at the 1952 convention, added, "It is not for me to say at this time whom I would support next year."

Part of Delegation
He said he hopes to be part of the New York convention delegation and "we'll decide together whom to support."

Harriman's claim that he is still free to choose his candidate came after a weekend visit from former President Truman. Like Harriman, Truman in the past had said he favored Stevenson, but at a news conference in Albany, N.Y., declared he was neutral.

Upon arrival at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here Sunday, Truman reiterated:

"I made it clear up there (in Albany) that I am as neutral as a man could possibly be in my position. I said it in Albany and I'll say it now: I'm making no choice until the convention. I'll back the nominee."

In his Albany statement Truman had also said that Harriman has "all the qualifications" to make a good president. If he were a voter in New York State Truman said, he would be for Harriman.

When asked whom he would favor if he were a voter in Illinois, the home state of Stevenson, Truman replied:

"There are three or four good men in the state of Illinois. . . I don't think an outsider should go into a state and try to dictate a candidate."

Russia Offers Economic Aid To Egyptians

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Daniel S. Solod said today Russia has offered economic aid to Egypt.

Emerging from a meeting with Hussein Aziz, permanent under-secretary at the Egyptian Foreign Ministry, Solod told reporters "our economic situation permits us to give aid to any country—providing that country will accept it."

Solod said his meeting with Aziz was routine and the aid offer had been made previously.

Solod declined to say if the Russian offer got a favorable answer from Egyptian officials. He emphasized that Russian economic aid was made available to other Arab states, too.

Solod said no money would be involved in the Russian aid, which would be in the form of agricultural and building equipment and other material which could be used in economic development.

Solod's announcement came on the heels of Egypt's announcement two weeks ago that she will trade cotton for arms for Communist Czechoslovakia. This aroused concern in Western countries who feared Communist infiltration in the strategic Middle East.

Russell Co. Employees Return To Work

Workers of the F. C. Russell Co. plant of Columbiana returned to work this morning following ratification Saturday by employees of the new contract agreement reached Friday between the company and United Steelworkers of America (CIO) local.

Company employees had walked off their jobs at midnight Sept. 30 after the union's previous contract with the company expired and the two factions were unable to agree on a new one.

The new contract gives Russell Co. workers the "big steel" boost of 11½ cents per hour, plus a one-half cent adjustment between job classifications. It also contains a company-proposed adjustment in group bonus standards.

In a company statement today, Arthur R. Leiser of Columbiana, plant manager, said:

"An adjustment in incentive rates and job classifications made it possible to meet the basic steel pattern without excessively increasing our manufacturing costs."

TELLS OF HITLER'S DEATH

—Heinz Linge, Adolf Hitler's personal valet, rests chin in hand at his aunt's West Berlin home after being returned from Russia with other freed German prisoners. Linge said he had helped burn the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun after the couple died in a suicide pact in the Nazi leader's Berlin chancellery air raid shelter on April 30, 1945.

Ike To Return To Desk In '56

Cheerfully Resigns Self To Long Recovery

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower continued to progress satisfactorily today as he cheerfully resigned himself to a long period of recovery and convalescence, which may keep him out of the White House the rest of the year.

"The President had a very good night's sleep of more than eight hours," a 7 a. m. (MST) medical bulletin said. "His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The prospects that he will retire at the end of his present term were heightened, however, by expert medical opinion that it is impossible to say now whether he will be "physically able" to run again.

While progress from his heart attack of Sept. 24 has been satisfactory, and his morale is high, he has agreed to a decision of his doctors to keep him at Fitzsimons Army Hospital for about another month.

These things became clear as the aftermath of a Sunday news conference at Lowry Air Force Base, Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted Boston heart specialist, speaking for himself at the President's bedside doctors, said:

1. The President will not fly to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., for at least four weeks and maybe not until the end of five more weeks.

2. Eisenhower is not "100 per cent" out of danger and it still is "too early to say" whether he will have "a complete recovery," but he has passed the period when complications normally would occur.

3. He thinks it should be "close to the first of the year" before the President goes back to the White House.

4. The President is "happy" at the hospital and will need a bit of work—such as his conference next

Hitler's Valet Tells Of Burning Fuehrer, Bride

Russians Free Linge After 10 Years In Soviet Union Prison

BERLIN (AP)—A roaring gasoline blaze consumed the bodies of Adolf Hitler and his bride Eva Braun while about 10 men of Hitler's staff watched in the garden outside the Fuehrer's Berlin air raid shelter in 1945.

That was the story — bottled up by the Russians for 10 years — told as an eyewitness account by Heinz Linge, Hitler's valet, who returned over the weekend from a decade of captivity in the Soviet Union.

"Hitler shot himself, Eva Braun took poison," said Linge in an interview Sunday.

Carried Body Out

"I carried his body out of the bunker, and then helped pour gasoline over it. We watched it burn for about five minutes."

The body of Eva, Hitler's mistress until he married her the day before the double suicide, was carried out from the underground boudoir and dumped on the grass in the Chancellery garden by Otto Guensche, an adjutant, while Soviet artillery shells were flying overhead, Linge said. Hitler's chauffeur, had tried to carry out the body, but it was too heavy for him.

Linge's story was matched in part by another returning POW, SS. Gen. Hans Baur, Hitler's personal pilot.

In Bunker April 30

Baur told newsmen at Camp Friedland in West Germany he was in the bunker April 30, the day of the suicides.

"I went into Hitler's apartment in the bunker to get my last orders," he said. "Hitler said goodbye to me then, remarking that he would now take his own life since the military situation had become hopeless."

Baur said he learned when he returned two hours later that the two had killed themselves, but he did not actually see the bodies.

Linge and Baur may be summoned to testify before a Berchtesgaden court which is expected to rule this month whether Hitler is dead. He has never been declared legally dead.

The aides' stories were substantially the same as had been reconstructed by Western investigators years ago. But the West had to wait 10 years to get their accounts first hand.

Linge said the Russians brought him back to Berlin in 1946 to reconstruct for them exactly what

Vaccine Here For Second Polio Shots

The board of health reported today receipt of 700 cc's of Salk vaccine for the second polio shots to be given to second and third grade school pupils here the week of Oct. 24.

Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner, said that parental slips have been sent home with the children who received their first inoculations last May. These slips must be returned to home room teachers before new vaccine will be administered.

Students new to the city since the first shot were given must be able to present a verification of their first inoculation, the health commissioner said. He urged parents of these children to get vaccine certificates as soon as possible if they didn't already have them.

Dr. John William Astry, 64, of 1490 E. State St., a Salem dentist for 41 years, died of a heart attack at midnight Saturday while fishing at Parry Sound in the Georgian Bay area of Canada.

Nearly Nude Woman's Body Under Brush

CLEVELAND (AP)—The coroner was to conduct an autopsy today in the death of a woman whose body was found almost nude under a pile of brush and leaves in Brookside Parks.

Police Capt. David E. Kerr called the death a homicide "because of the obvious attempt to conceal the body." Officers said the woman was about 5-1 between 18 and 30 years old and had been dead from a week to 10 days.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber, however, declined to speculate on either the cause or time of death before his autopsy.

Factory worker Jacob Baciak, 63, came upon the body while hunting mushrooms. It was in a deep gulch below the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks.

It was clothed in only panties, a brassiere and stockings.

Near the body were a leather spectacles case, two soft drink bottles and a pencil stub which had been pressed into the ground.

United Local School Dedicated

Over 1,000 Persons Inspect New Building

R. M. Garrison, elementary and secondary school supervisor for the state department of education, commended United Local School district voters for providing "excellent" educational facilities for their youth when he spoke at the United Local High School dedication program Sunday at the school.

His topic was "Ohio High Schools."

More than 1,000 persons attended the program and inspected the new school, biggest rural high school in Columbiana County, Dale W. Gates of Lisbon, school superintendent, reported.

Located on a 103-acre tract a mile south of New Garden on Rt. 9, the new high school adjoins the elementary school completed in 1951. Approximately 800 students from Hanover Twp., the biggest part of Butler Twp. and the western sections of Salem and Center Twps. attend the schools.

United Local voters passed a $444,000 bond issue for the new school which was completed early this fall and held its first classes Sept. 5. A class of 78 freshmen entered in September, and Gates anticipates a high school enrollment of 300 by 1958. United Local students who attended out-of-district high schools last year are continuing at those buildings.

Columbus Man Injured When Struck By Car

A 65-year-old Columbus man is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital today recovering from injuries suffered when he was hit by a car on Rt. 30, three and one-half miles west of Lisbon, at 6:40 p. m. Saturday.

State highway patrolmen said Terrence Lynch of Columbus, while walking on the highway, stumbled in front of a westbound car operated by Joseph Zehrbauer, 52, of Rd 1, Hanoverton.

Lynch received a compound fracture of the left leg, and lacerations and abrasions of the head and body.

Four other highway mishaps were investigated by patrolmen over the weekend.

Patrolmen probed a one-car accident in which the driver fled the scene of the mishap on Rt. 165, one and one-half miles north of Unity, at 11 p. m. Sunday. Patrolmen found the demolished car turned over in a field on the right side of the road, and tire marks showing that the car had left the highway on the left side and then recrossed the road and went off the right berm.

In another accident at 10:50 p. m. Saturday Frank Schooley, 62, of Rd 1, New Waterford, drove his east-bound car off the right side of Rt. 14, three miles east of Columbiana, to avoid hitting a line of cars slowing down in front of him. The car turned over in a ditch on the side of the road and received considerable damage, patrolmen said.

Schooley was cited by patrolmen for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Robert Elson, 21, of 593 Perry St. was involved in a similar mishap when he drove his car off the right side of Rt. 9, one mile south of Kensington, at 12:15 p. m. Sunday. The car overturned on the side of the road and received minor damage, the patrol said.

In another one-car mishap, Richard Miller, 23, of Sebring, heavily damaged his car when he lost control of the vehicle, causing it to overturn on Rt. 538, one mile south of Salem, at 12:30 this morning. He was cited by patrolmen for reckless operation.

To Prepare For Both Harmony And Obstruction

Official Tells Legion World Opinion Will Free East Germany

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States will go into this month's Big Four foreign ministers conference with two sets of plans: One to meet any Russian obstruction and the other to exploit genuine Soviet harmony moves.

Dulles also said in a foreign policy address prepared for the 37th annual convention of the American Legion:

1. World opinion eventually will force Russia to relax its grip on East Germany and to liberate satellite peoples in eastern Europe.

Boosts Ike's Proposal

2. Soviet acceptance of President Eisenhower's plan for aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints would provide the basis for further international disarmament controls.

"We can then confidently move on to international measures to reduce and control the instruments of death," Dulles said.

This country, he said, must be prepared neither to rebuff any authentic Soviet move toward easing tensions nor to expose the United States to later "moral danger."

Dulles and the foreign ministers of Great Britain, France and Russia will meet at Geneva beginning Oct. 27 in a follow-up to the Big Four summit conference of last summer.

Policy To Appear Friendly

Dulles told the legionnaires Soviet policy at present is to "appear friendly and to mingle with all the world." Perhaps, he said, the Soviets have a proverb something like the American one which says: "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

In his speech, carried to the nation by both television and radio, Dulles said the United States loves peace, but "not peace at any price."

Dulles said Russian leaders have "rapidly changed their demeanor." But, he added, "we cannot tell whether it is merely a maneuver."

Dulles, who was scheduled to fly to Denver after his speech to discuss foreign policy problems with Eisenhower, made no predictions

NEW YORK (AP)—A wave of selling broke on the stock market today at the start of the third hour and hammered prices down severely.

Within a short time, the decline was resumed and broadened until it swamped the high speed ticker. All divisions of the market were depressed by the selling, and there were losses of $1 to $4 everywhere. The greatest decline of any leader was around $9.

Police Nab One Of '10 Most Wanted'

DENVER (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today that one of its 10 Most Wanted criminals was captured by Denver police as he loitered in an alley last night.

The FBI identified him as Daniel A. Everhart, 30, of Akron, Ohio. Listed in FBI circulars as armed and dangerous, Everhart gave up without a struggle to two Denver patrolmen. He was unarmed.

Agents of the FBI said Everhart escaped June 13, 1954, from the state prison farm at London, Ohio, where he was serving three consecutive sentences of 3 to 45 years.

Everhart, cornered in an alley by Akron police, escaped after an exchange of gunfire last Jan. 14. The FBI also said Everhart early January was identified from photographs as a participant in three armed robberies and two burglaries in Akron. He later was charged with armed robbery and the FBI issued a warrant for him last Feb. 1 when he fled Ohio to avoid prosecution.

He was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary from Canton, Ohio, on March 31, 1950, for burglary and larceny. Later he was transferred to the prison farm at London.

The FBI said Everhart is being held here for Ohio authorities.

'$200 Million Year' Expected By State Liquor Department

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state liquor department is expecting its first $200 million dollar year.

It probably will break both dollar sales and volume records set in 1953, a boom year nationally. The state liquor director, William C. Bryant, exhibited figures to show his expectations aren't too high. Total 1954 wholesale and retail sales brought in $190,814,122 in 1954 and $195,695,706 the year before.

The dollar volume is running ahead of the last two years. Through Sept. 17, the department took in $127,832,126, compared with $122,935,458 in the corresponding period last year and $155,942,202 for the corresponding period in 1953.

Volume figures for the same periods are 7,317,223 for this year, 7,115,777 for 1954 and 7,345,536 for 1953. During all of 1954 the department sold 10,928,814 gallons, compared with 11,235,288 gallons in 1953.

Part of the increased revenue this year is due to the 50 cents per gallon increase the department levied in June. Some of this, however, has been offset by lower prices charged the department by distillers.

The busiest liquor-selling season of the year lies ahead. Bryant said sales were off this spring, but bounced back during the summer.

The department now is ordering 75 million dollars worth of liquor for its warehouses and stores to take care of the expected heavy buying. About 150 temporary liquor store clerks are being hired.

The 280 state liquor stores traditionally do between 13 and 15 percent of their year's business in December, when Ohioans stock up for Christmas and New Year's parties.

Twenty-four stores in the Cleveland area each will close the year with one million dollar volume records, says Bryant.

Why are liquor sales rising? Bryant says several factors are responsible.

For one thing, Ohio's population continues to rise. More buyers are switching from cheaper brands of liquor to those in the medium-price range. This affects dollar volume.

In 1953, blended whiskies accounted for 53.9 per cent of the volume of liquor sold. The percentage dropped to 50 last year. Sales of straight bourbon rose from 16.5 per cent to 18 per cent of all liquor sold during the same time.

While the department sold only 25,000 gallons of vodka in 1953, it sold 40,500 gallons in 1954—and the percentage still is rising.

Bryant says the department could sell more liquor if it had more state stores. The number of stores the department can operate is fixed by law. It's possible to have 612 stores, says Bryant, compared with the 280 now operating.

However, he looks for only four or five new stores during the next two-year period. That's because he has to stay within the amount of money allotted the department by the state Legislature.

Department earnings are holding "fairly firm" despite increased operating expenses, yet they can't be used to set up more stores.

Bryant says he'd like to make buying more convenient. Every store is paying its own way, Bryant says.

Rogers WSCS Works On Annual Project

ROGERS — The ladies of the Rogers W.S.C.S. assisted by the Brooks Circle spent Wednesday making apple butter. The butter is "stirred off" in big copper kettles over an open fire out in the church yard. This has become an event for women of the Methodist Church. Besides being sold to all of the neighboring towns it has been shipped to Arizona, Texas, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York. The ladies made 48 gallons and plan to continue the project during the month of October.

Nothing Has Been Easy

If anyone in Stark or Summit county thinks Akron-Canton Memorial Airport's proposed expansion program is too large, an order, a look at the record will be reassuring.

Everything about this vital project to keep two key industrial cities abreast of the age of aviation has been a large order. The early difficulties have been forgotten by those who now take the big airport up in the county line for granted.

It has been 15 years since Civil Aeronautics Authority, coming to grips with an idea that had been kicked around in Washington since the 1930's, authorized an airfield in the Canton area. That was on Sept. 21, 1940.

Nothing happened for a long time, and when something did happen it was a near-fatal blow. CAA said no Stark County site was acceptable for the two-million-dollar port it was willing to build. It recommended a site in Summit County, instead.

Canton Chamber of Commerce, then proposed a two-county port. This required approval by the Ohio General Assembly. The railroad lobby in Columbus saw to it that a bill for that purpose was killed in committee. But this difficulty was overcome by an agreement whereby Summit County would buy the land and Stark County would make a contract to use the airport.

The next difficulty was money. That was overcome by contributions of 36 business firms in the two counties to buy the airport site. After that, a staggering blow fell when Washington whimsically suspended all CAA work; that was on May 16, 1944. The following September, the government changed its mind. On Oct. 6, 1944, work was resumed.

Then another blow fell. In March, 1945, Washington again suspended work, then changed its mind later. Memorial Airport was opened officially on Oct. 11, 1946. Until then, no one had known from one day to the next what might happen. Difficulties had been the rule, not the exception.

In June, 1948, the airlines belatedly came to the port, after everything possible had been done by Akron Municipal Airport to keep them at that locality. And now, confronted with the challenge of a detailed engineering report on what is needed to make the potentially perfect airport as good as it should be to serve the area that regards it as the symbol of the age of aviation, the friends of Akron-Canton Memorial Airport have another difficulty to surmount.

They must find money — upward of $750,000 to match what the federal government is willing to pay to improve aviation facilities in this key area.

No one knows where that much money is going to be found. But after 15 years of surmounting difficulties, the people who believe in Akron-Canton Memorial Airport are agood bet to surmount one more. They know how to fight for what they believe is worth having. Nothing has been easy.

But everything has been worthwhile. With their unflagging interest and devotion, Akron, Canton and the great urban area surrounding them in Stark and Summit counties would be out in the cold as far as aviation is concerned.

Historic Precedent

The calm, unflinching way in which members of the Eisenhower administration are taking care of the President's responsibility on a stand-by basis has established a historic precedent.

The path for the precedent was cleared by action as early as 1952, when Dwight Eisenhower as president-elect sought the assistance of outstanding men to head up the executive department.

The caliber of his associates was assurance of the success of the new President's plan to organize an executive staff on the general plan of the military staffs that had served him so well at the climax of his military career.

His decision to make Vice President Nixon an active member of his administration, instead of a fifth wheel, coupled with his ability to delegate authority to Sherman Adams, his principal presidential assistant, set an entirely new pattern of executive responsibility. It was a clean break with one-man government.

No other president of the United States ever approached the degree of delegation that has distinguished the Eisenhower organization from its predecessors. The United States was adequately prepared in advance for a presidential crisis for the first time since 1789, when constitutional government began.

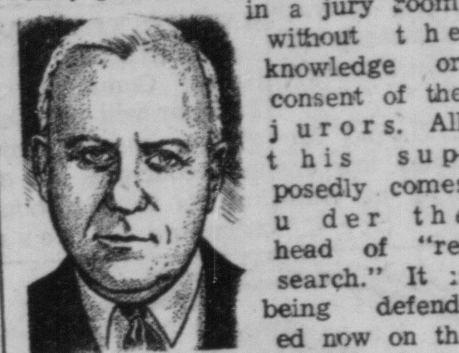

The future will be uncertain and clouded until it is known whether or not the President can return to full duty. It can only be imagined what chaos would have been set in wild motion if provision had not been made in advance for standby government.

Limit To 'Research'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Professors Plant Hidden Mikes In Jury Room

Strange goings on — the news comes out that a group of University of Chicago professors recently planted hidden microphones in a jury room without the knowledge or consent of the jurors. All this supposedly comes under the head of "research." It is being defended now on the ground that the attorneys in the case and the judge consented — but nobody seems to have been worried about the discourtesy to, if not the violation of the rights of, the jurors themselves, who didn't know that what they were saying to each other privately was being recorded and transcribed for the eyes and ears of persons who had no moral right to eavesdrop in the first place.

It would have brought the loudest of protests from coast to coast if Sen. McCarthy's committee or any of the other congressional investigating groups had tried the same sort of "research" in order to get information about the conversations of organizations or discussion groups of various kinds. It would have been, of course, interesting "research" for a congressional committee to sit in on meetings held by ideological groups.

THE CRY WOULD have gone up that this was a gross breach of the Bill of Rights and all the other rights of the individual guaranteed by the Constitution.

Yet today it has been revealed that the Ford Foundation made the grant of funds to the University of Chicago law school and that the project involved a study of the jury system. It is probable that the Ford Foundation didn't know that its money was going to be used to plant microphones in jury rooms, nor did it presumably know why it was necessary for the managers of the research project to get information in this peculiar way.

It is a safe bet that the committee headed by Sen. Hennings which is studying abuses of constitutional rights, will not investigate this, though already the Senate subcommittee on internal security has announced it will take testimony. The episode actually belongs in the field of the Hennings committee.

ATTORNEY GENERAL Herbert Brownell, expressed himself in indignant terms concerning the project. He issued a statement in which he said that the wiring of the jury room was done "without the knowledge or consent of the jurors and without the knowledge or consent of the attorney general, in at least five civil cases." He then said in part:

We in the Department of Justice are unequivocally opposed to any recording or eavesdropping on the deliberations of a jury under any conditions regardless of the purpose. Such practices, however well intentioned, obviously and inevitably stifle the discussion and free exchange of ideas between jurors. They tend to destroy the very basis for common judgment among the jurors upon which the institution of trial by jury is based, and are inconsistent with the purposes of the seventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which requires that trial by jury shall be preserved."

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL might also have mentioned the provision of the Constitution which guarantees the citizen against intrusions on his privacy. It is in article four of the Bill of Rights, which says:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

The word "unreasonable" means that the limits of intrusion must be defined by law. There are currently pending in Congress some bills to permit wiretapping when a federal judge, upon a showing of the circumstances of a suspected crime, approves the use of listening devices. In this Chicago instance there was no crime suspected. It was, therefore, a sheer invasion of the right of privacy on the mistaken assumption that some beneficial purpose of research might be served.

THIS COULD JUST as well have been fulfilled by interviewing the jurors afterwards as to their suggestions for improvement of the system or by seeing to it that some of the professors or students serve on juries.

They could reveal their recommendations or proposed reforms in the classroom afterwards without violating the confidence of the jury room.

The attorney general has announced that he will ask Congress to pass laws "to prevent such intrusions upon the privacy of the deliberations of both grand and petit juries of the courts of the United States by any persons whatsoever."

This would include the new-fangled "research" techniques, too.

When The Eyes Have It

By TRUMAN TWILL

These are things I'd never get tired of seeing:

Little girls who swagger and spit through their teeth, in imitation of the little boys they have been playing with;

The underhand flip of a baseball to second base at the beginning of a double play;

Snow-covered mountain peaks when the clouds blow away and reveal the sun glinting on white summits;

Thanksgiving turkeys as they come out of the oven and are carried to the table;

The matchless color of an Irish setter's red coat against a green background in the highlight that comes just before summer darkness;

The finest looking flag anywhere on earth waving proudly from the top of a good tall flagpole on a sunny day;

Christmas trees at the climactic instant when the trimmers have put the last ornament in place and stepped back to admire their handiwork;

Elderly couples walking hand in hand;

Big airplanes seeming to hang motionless over the end of the runway as the pilot brings them in for a happy landing;

Cock pheasants strutting at the head of a platoon of placid hens; Glances of family groups framed in picture windows on rainy autumn evenings;

Well groomed women who never will see 60 again but show no outward signs of regret;

Newspapers fresh off the press, waiting to be read;

City streets in the small hours of the night when they are resting up for another day of bustle and confusion;

Blue morning glories entwined on lamp posts in dooryards; Home libraries whose books bear the evidence of hard use;

The first nerve-tingling glimpse of a well set stage at the beginning of a good play;

Log booms being nudged along in the deep, clear waters of Canadian lakes by chuffing tugs;

Hardwood groves in meadows, with all the lower branches trimmed off as high as the grazing cattle can reach;

Flocks of blue-eyed ducklings

waddling happily toward a pool of water after an April shower;

The colorful pageantry of the football rite as performed countless times each weekend in the stadia of the U.S.A.;

Scrubbed children in freshly laundered clothes, lined up for a special occasion and wriggling like a basketful of worms in anticipation of the pleasures that await them;

Old men with faces that advertise their amiable state of mind and invite you to strike up acquaintance;

The sight of a personal letter hidden in a stack of institutional mail that must be looked at in the line of duty;

The lonely, neglected look of a cluttered desk awaiting the return of a vacationer who wondered if he was being missed.

The Status Quo

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

What Egypt has done is quite simple. Not finding it possible to obtain arms at reasonable terms for speedy delivery from the United States Premier Nasser got what he needed through Soviet Russia. The deal was made in August.

Sokolsky

ain knew nothing about the deal until deliveries were ready. The general claim to ignorance can only mean that the existing intelligence organizations of both countries are totally incompetent and require overhauling. In the United States this has been recommended by the Hoover Commission.

There can be no question but that Egypt a sovereign state has a right to purchase arms where it chooses and under whatever conditions are available to it. The suppliers are bound by no international agreements not to sell to Egypt or any other country.

WHAT IS INVOLVED here is altogether another principle. The Geneva Conference at the Summit was called for the purpose of establishing a recognized status quo based on a balance of power. This balance of power differs from that of the Holy Alliance (1815) in that it is not limited to Europe; it is world wide. The American people have never seen a map describing the balance of power established at Geneva; as the Russians smiled so smilingly it undoubtedly included China as part of the Soviet universal state.

The Western group of nations would claim the Arab world and Israel, both of which are really neutral, as part of the so-called Western free nations. Among these countries is Egypt. None of the countries involved in this formula, except four, were present at Geneva or had a voice in the description of their position in the world.

A BALANCE OF POWER based on a rigid status quo can only be maintained if neither side engages in activities which remove any segment of the arrangement which immediately produces an imbalance. Where such an arrangement is held together by a fine hair it is too much to expect that it can be held together at all for any prolonged period. At any rate this one did not hold for a month whereas the arrangements made at the Congress of Vienna survived more or less for 99 years (1815-1914).

Egypt's role in all this is that Premier Nasser wants weapons to destroy Israel which has thus far successfully challenged Egypt's preeminence in the Near East. In each armed encounter Israel has won the day.

Egypt which seeks to dominate the Moslem fraternity of nations loses face each time it comes in conflict with Israel because the Jews are more competent fighters and possess better arms.

EGYPT ASSUMED that the purchase of superior arms could help in the struggle against Israel.

The conquest of Israel by Egypt would seriously upset the status quo in the Near East. The support of Egypt by Soviet Russia upsets the balance of power in the world.

It must be assumed from past experience, and it is so assumed, that Russia would not provide arms to Egypt without making a secret agreement containing important political clauses. Such clauses affect the future not only of Israel, but of Turkey and Greece and cannot but have an important effect upon all North African countries and Italy.

This means that the Mediterranean which has been a Western lake is no longer a Western lake and that NATO has been breached not out of Germany, as was anticipated, but out of Egypt, which was not expected.

IN A WORD, the Geneva smiles are again frowns and the Russians have again won a major diplomatic victory while the West was paralyzed by the optimism engendered at Geneva.

It is astounding that this Russian formula should have been so regularly successful for 12 years since Stalin first used it at Tehran and that the Western statesmen, so anxious to avoid war, never learn anything but regularly walk into the same trap. Harry Truman having smelled the bait in that trap, kept away from it during the whole of his presidency except for this one excursion into the unknown.

The Egyptian and Algerian Imbrolios are more serious than appears on the surface. For one thing they destroyed in August a status quo established and recognized in July.

CIO Again Invades Ohio

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Before October is much older, Ohio will be making very interesting political news, perhaps as hot as that which concerned the battle of 1950 between Sen. Taft and the CIO. The CIO, which seems determined to add Ohio to Michigan as a captive state, has placed upon the ballot for a vote on election day a bill to accomplish two important purposes.

First, it would make it legal for employees to accept supplemental unemployment compensation from an employer without losing their rights under state law. Then it would greatly increase the unemployment compensation to a figure which is equalled only in Nevada.

The CIO, it is reported, will throw money and organizers into the state without stint. On the other hand, Ohio management is organizing its forces to defeat the proposal.

It is important to note that under the Ford-GM-UAW-CIO agreements, the companies' payments do not begin until two-thirds of the employees concerned are covered by a state law which would permit them to accept the supplementary compensation.

Michigan has 56 per cent of the workers of those companies, and Ohio is next with 11 per cent. Michigan is already accounted for. Ohio is therefore the next big target. The present proposal, which has been placed upon the November ballot, was before the Ohio legislature at its 1955 session but failed of passage.

Unemployment compensation began in Ohio in 1939 with provision for $15 for 6 weeks. Two years later, it was increased to $16 for 18 weeks. Then there was an increase to $21 for 24 weeks, and later to $28 for 26 weeks. An additional allowance was made for dependents.

In 1953 the rate per week was raised to $30 for 28 weeks, and in 1955 the figure was increased to $33, with a maximum of $39.

The proposal to be submitted to the voters would raise the maximum to $59 for 39 weeks.

The opposition to the proposal points out that the present Ohio compensation law is the most generous in the nation with the exception of Nevada that it would load the state with an additional burden of expenditure of 47 1/2 million dollars, and that, since it would raise unemployment compensation above 50 per cent of the wage for working, it would be "more attractive to fish than work."

Attention also is called to the inconsistency, not to say unfairness, of providing a minimum wage of one dollar an hour by law and a rate of compensation of $1.48 tax free for not working.

When this proposal was before the Ohio legislature earlier this year, Gov. Frank Lausche denounced it as "fantastic."

The national significance of this fight is that it is the first big test of the Reuther political apparatus since he merged the CIO and the AFL. In addition it will bring into sharp perspective the place of Gov. Lausche in the Democratic political picture.

Letters For Special Delivery

Dear Bums: You can now have your new ball park in any spot you pick, including Times Square, and your friends are sorry there is no Babylon or Shangri La. I would even suggest two ball parks, one to be used as a spare on days when you tire of the same scenery. You did it the hard way and created so much suspense that the fans wondered whether you were a ball club or a bunch of whodunit authors. There is even a suspicion that your manager is not Walter Alston but either Alfred Hitchcock or the ghost of David Belasco.

YOU WRECKED our nerves but all of you, especially Johnny Podres, restored our faith in Horatio Alger, Frank Merriwell, David and his slingshot, Jack the Giant Killer, and Santa Claus. You were alternately Little Lord Fauntleroy and Davy Crockett, but you finished up with the coonskin hat, which was okay by me.

It was about time somebody proved that the Yankees were not men from outer space, sons of Goliath or members of a Tarzan reserve corps. I hereby announce the "Podres for President Club." And he can also be secretary of state, secretary of war, secretary of spinal columns and secretary of the interior, because his interior has the organs that count.

When Duke Snider stepped into that hole I thought you were finished, but the next afternoon the Yankees stepped into the elevator shaft. Well I will have to close now as Casey Stengel is on the wire and I guess he has a message for me. It reads, "Wait 'till next year," maybe.

Yours sincerely

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Tough little labor barons have made a business out of union brotherhood. They've put price tags on crusades and their many dollars are tainted with the terror of good, but helpless people. The police and politicians may look the other way, but the hoods are going to get a run for their money from the clergy — of all creeds.

There's still crime on the waterfront, but there's still Father John Corridan, who won't stop needing the easily convinced conscience of the nation.

There's crime off the waterfront, too. For using a union to terrorize members and businessmen, a man named Bill DeKoning, Sr., went to jail — and this week the prison gates at Attica, N.Y., swing open for him. He returns to do business at his old stand — and to find that a Presbyterian minister, Rev. John W. Van Zanten, is about to seek a priest and a rabbi to help clean unionists' fight back.

The fight will be made in a corner of suburban New York — Nassau and Suffolk counties — which could be the outer, tree-lined, commuters' neighborhood around any city.

IT WOULD DO the nation good — and especially those who come up to me after each lecture and ask what they can do to fight off chiselers — to watch this corner of the U. S. A.

DeKoning is a convicted extortionist who learned from the master — his buddy, Joe Fay. Fay at one time could have stopped at heavy construction and home and office building anywhere in America with a phone call.

He went to jail, but DeKoning ruled for years after, through everybody — including the law enforcement agencies — knew he was on the take from union members, who had to pay him for the privilege of earning their daily bread, and from contractors.

The contractors had to pay him without DeKoning's Local 138 of the Operating Engineers they couldn't put up their multi-million dollar projects.

His son, Bill DeKoning, Jr., took over after pop went up. Technique was simple. Junior, who himself had a suspended sentence, simply opened up a meeting of the local by declaring himself chairman.

LEADERS OF THE Union Reform Committee immediately pointed out that the Operating Engineers' constitution said that only the local president could chair a union meeting — and DeKoning, Jr. had no office.

Junior tried to duck. But finally he simply announced, "Charlie Britton (whom everybody thought was president — VR) appointed me president at the executive board meeting and then resigned."

Those asking further questions were put on trial subsequently and forbidden to attend local meetings.

The Reform Committee wrote to William Maloney, their international president, official protector of the engineering proletariat. But Bill is a slow reader. He hasn't answered them in 14 months. So they went to the courts — and to the church. Rev. Van Zanten agreed to handle whatever funds could be collected for the drive for clean unionism.

A STRANGE PHENOMENON developed, even in the presence of his man of God. Men and women, weary of seeing their husbands terrorized, offered money for the fight. But they wanted to remain anonymous. They wanted no records, no receipts for their donations. They sent money through intermediaries. They were frightened. The shadowy influence of a jailed extortionist hung over the community like a heavy mental smog.

Here is a modern community, looks like any other — TV antennas, neat lawns, ball-playing kids and scurrying commuters. But among them are workers and businessmen frightened of the "combine."

Finally, faced with DeKoning, Sr.'s release from jail this week, the reform bloc — some of whom have found the terror so strong that they are being shaken from their jobs — went to the Bishops' Commission in the Cathedral at Garden City, L.I., New York.

They put documents before a subcommittee headed by the Venerable Canon A. E. Saunders, a prominent church dignitary. They answered questions — they described the terror. The sharp and searching ones — and Bishops' subcommittee reserved its decision. But the likelihood is that it will take the unprecedented action of helping this struggle. Then there will be national publicity.

And why not? Is there anything about such labor barons as DeKoning which gives them special dispensation to blight the souls of men?

CHIEF DRAFTSMAN. — Robert Berg (above) has been appointed by the E. W. Bliss Co. as chief draftsman of the company's rolling mill division here. Berg, 37, was a project engineer with the Republic Steel Corp. 15 years before joining Bliss. He is an Ohio State University graduate.

Life Hater

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curstone reflections of a pavement Plato: Are you a life hater?

When you see somebody happy, do you secretly want to see him miserable?

Do you stir in everyone you meet a desire to serve you as a pallbearer?

If so, be warned. There is a gigantic conspiracy against you. It is a massive scientific plot to make the human race live longer. Its goal: to raise the average life span to 100 years.

The books, magazines and newspapers are full of advice on how to live to be old.

But this is the worst kind of news to you, isn't it? You would rather hang crepe than holly. You'd rather cry than laugh. Life never leaves you breathless, but you wish it would — because breathing is only a nuisance. Your biggest regret is that you weren't born dead.

Is there no help for you? Can a group of rascally scientists force you to live to be 100? Not if you don't want them to!

Here are a few sure-fire tips on how not to live to be old:

1. Develop your present non-winning personality to the utmost. Fight down any temptation to praise or approve of anything that has happened since the Chester A. Arthur administration.

2. Crab out loud at everybody. Blow your top early and often. Remember, it isn't the passive complainer that gets apoplexy; it's the guy who pops a gusset over trifles.

3. If you have a small persistent pain in your innards, don't go galloping off to the doctors. If they are curious about what's wrong with you, make 'em wait for the autopsy. They won't cure you then.

4. Always do your looking for sunsets on rainy afternoons. Then you'll never be surprised by Joy.

5. If you're not in a rut now, get in one as soon as you can, and dig it as deep as you can. Always walk the same way home. Avoid all change of any kind. Change and variety spice life, and you don't want yours spiced.

6. Avoid marriage at all costs. Matrimony works oddly. It gives a man more to holler about — but it also makes him live longer.

7. If you go hunting, go with total strangers. They are much more likely to mistake you for a deer.

8. Never sit down to a meal unless you are thoroughly worn out or have worked yourself into a towering rage. Avoid all nonfattening foods. If you must eat green vegetables, fry them. Fry them twice.

9. Get 4 hours of sleep each night — but no more. Don't play tennis except under a hot sun.

10. Never read poetry, see a new play or associate with children. All these things are like deadly poisons to your sense of gloom. They make you feel younger.

Any man who follows these 10 simple rules, I guarantee, won't live to be old. But he'll feel old all the time, older than Methuselah. And, if you're a born killjoy, isn't that the way you really want to feel?

Struthers Hands Salem Quakers Third Loss Of Season, 33-20

Game Was Tied In Third Period

Alexander Scores All 20 Of Salem's Points

By CARL NADRASY

Although they fought back to tie the game at 20-all going into the final minutes of the third quarter, the Salem Quakers could not hold the Struthers Wildcats at bay in the final period and went down to their third defeat, 33-20 before some 2,000 fans at Reilly Stadium Saturday night.

The hometown fans saw fumbles again plague the locals as they failed to maintain possession of the ball when sustained drives were running smoothly.

Hard-driving fullback Jack Alexander scored all 20 Salem points. He ran over three touchdowns, plunged over for an extra point and caught a pass in the end zone for another point after touchdown. The game started off as if it

STRUTHERS-SALEM ACTION—Above, Jack Alexander (17) plunges 3½ yards for Salem's second touchdown of the night as he put the Quakers out in front temporarily 12-7 in the second quarter. Blocking at right for the Quakers is Tom Alesi, starting to hit Struthers' Arnie Sandru (45). The Wildcats' tackle, Jack Yurko (60) hit Alexander in front of the goal line but the Salem fullback's momentum carried him just over the goal.

At middle, Quaker Halfback Larry Hepler almost disappears beneath Struthers' tacklers after he had picked up four yards around left end in the second quarter, carrying to the Struthers' 14. Sandru and Yurko bring him down. Quaker guard Larry Phillis (61) was blocking on the play.

At right, a Wildcat defender leaps in front of Salem's captain Herb Haschen to knock down a pass thrown by Joe Bryan in the fourth quarter. Struthers won the game 33-20.

climaxed a 58-yard drive by plunging over left tackle from three yards out for his final touchdown of the night, with three minutes and 15 seconds remaining in the third frame.

The point after touchdown was the freak play of the night. As quarterback Jim Meissner went in to the line on a plunge, the ball squirted out of his arms into the arms of Alexander who was standing in the end zone. The score then went to 20-20.

The Wildcats were not to be denied victory after an exchange of the ball as they capitalized on an Alexander fumble on their own 48. In six plays covering 52 yards, the visitors put the ball over as halfback Belchik scored his second tally of the night on an 11-yard sweep around left end. Nellis' kick was good to put Struthers out in front to stay, 27-20, with 10 minutes and 37 seconds remaining.

Struthers added an insurance touchdown in the closing minutes of the game as Sandru scored his second TD of the night by running 45 yards through the right side of the Salem line with three minutes and four seconds remaining in the contest. Nellis' kick was wide to the right to make the final score 33-20 Struthers.

Salem again fumbled their chances away at scoring another touchdown in the final minutes as Burrier fumbled on the Struthers 39-yard marker.

Salem Coach Ben Barrett again employed three quarterbacks throughout the game, with Jim Meissner being a surprise starter.

Quarterback Bob McCollum, along with halfbacks Belchik and Sandru were outstanding for Struthers as they ate up most of the ground for their team. McCollum is one of the smoothest operating quarterbacks seen in high school circles in a long time. His deception was so good once than an official attempted to retrieve the ball from the arms of a Struthers back whom McCollum had only faked to.

The Salem bouquet would have to go to fullback Jack Alexander. He was the workhorse for the Quakers by grinding out the necessary first downs on crucial plays and scoring all his teams' 20 points. Capt. Herb Haschen also was in top form on defense as well as offense. He was in on many of the tackles and several times came from his secondary defensive position to bring down Wildcat runners on the opposite side of the field.

Next week the locals will play host to Newton Falls at Reilly Stadium in a game to start at 8:15 p.m.

4 Teams Tied For Eastern NFL Lead

By NICK ELENA
The Associated Press

The champion Cleveland Browns, who are finding it tough going in the National Football League this season, can be mighty thankful for their powers of persuasion that enticed Otto Graham out of retirement for another year.

Graham, who had planned to retire this year after leading the Browns to nine straight division titles, sparked an 87-yard touchdown march in the final minutes yesterday to defeat Philadelphia's tattered Eagles 21-17.

The victory gave Cleveland a 2-1 record and raised them to a four-way tie for first place in the Eastern Division with Washington, Pittsburgh and the surprising Chicago Cardinals.

In a radical shift of the balance of power in the Western Division, Los Angeles shares the lead with the frisky Baltimore Colts by virtue of a 17-10 decision over the winless Detroit Lions. The defending Western titlist now occupy the cellar with the Chicago Bears.

Baltimore defeated Green Bay's Packers 24-20 Saturday night and, like the Rams, sports a spotless 3-0 record.

In Sunday's other action, the Pittsburgh Steelers handed the disappointing New York Giants their third straight defeat 30-23; the San Francisco 49ers scored a 20-19 triumph over the Bears; and the Cardinals hung a 24-10 defeat on the Redskins, their first.

With the Browns trailing 17-14 on their own 13-yard line and 4 minutes and 13 seconds left, Graham gambled on a fourth-down pass and hit end Dante Lavelli for 14 yards. A 36-yard run by Otto, a 2-yard pitchout and his 5-yard scoring pass to Lavelli gave the Browns the winning touchdown. Graham also accounted for the other Cleveland touchdowns, scoring one and passing for the other.

Reserves To Play E. Palestine Today

The remainder of the reserve schedule is as follows:
Oct. 17, Boardman, there.
Oct. 24, Campbell, there.
The freshman team's remaining schedule is:
Oct. 20, Stanton Jr. High, here (4 p. m.).

Clutch Drive Brings Browns 21-17 Victory Over Eagles

Fumbles Hurt Cleveland Cause

Graham Hits Lavelli With Winning Pass

By DIC KSMITH:
CLEVELAND (AP)—A couple of old pros—Otto Graham pitching and Dante Lavelli catching—have given the Cleveland Browns a hefty push along the road to a 10th straight pro football division championship.

"He pulled us out," Coach Paul Brown said of automatic Otto, who came out of a short-lived retirement two weeks before the opening of the season, his 10th with the Browns.

It was a Graham-to-Lavelli pass one minute and 15 seconds before the game's end that brought Cleveland a 21-17 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles before 43,974 fans here yesterday. The 5-yard, third-down toss climaxed an 87-yard drive that included dashes of 19 and 36 yards by Graham and passes of 5 and 14 yards to Lavelli before the payoff pitch.

"When I saw him swing around that goalpost I knew we were in," Graham said of his scoring shot to Lavelli in the end-zone corner. "It was just a question then of laying the ball in his arms."

Lavelli said he "thought the ball never would come down"—that it "sort of hung in mid-air while my arms quivered for it."

Lavelli had cut to his left and reversed direction by swinging around the goal post, which in the pros game are on the goal line.

The Eagles, runner-up to the Browns in the Eastern Division the past three years and pre-season favorites to nose them out this year, had the National Football League champions in trouble most of the way because of two Cleveland fumbles.

The first fumble was by Ed Modzelewski late in the first quarter on the Browns' 21. Halfback Harry Dowda recovered for the Eagles, and Bobby Thomas passed 12 yards to Bobby Walston. Skipper Giancanelli ripped up the middle for six and two plays later carried a pitchout over from three yards out.

The second fumble was by Graham at 2:40 of the final quarter. Retreating from his own 42, Graham dropped the ball which tackle Frank Wydo picked up on about the Browns' 30 and carried to the 7.

"The ball was knocked out of my hand just as I was about to pass it," Graham said afterward. "I argued it was not a fumble, but I supposed it could have been called either way."

Other players from both teams apparently expected an incomplete pass ruling, for few made any effort to get in the play. A 4-yard pass from Adrian Burk to Pete Pihos turned the break into a touchdown to give the Eagles a 17-14 lead.

Dick Bilecki, rookie fullback from Maryland, boomed a 50-yard field goal early in the second quarter for Philadelphia's other points.

The Browns trailed 10-0 when they struck for two touchdowns in a rough second quarter marked by a free-swinging clash between middle guard Mike Jarmoluk of the Eagles and Cleveland end Carlton Massey. Both were ejected.

A 49-yard pass from Graham was gathered in by Lavelli on the Eagles' 5 in a diving slide that carried another two yards. Nobody laid a hand on Graham two plays later when he bootlegged around left end into the end zone.

The game's longest march carried the Browns to their second touchdown 1:40 before the half. It covered 94 yards, the big ground-eaters being a 34-yard pass to Fred Morrison, a 25-yarder to Lavelli and a touchdown screen pass to Modzelewski who lugged it nearly all of the 29 yards needed.

Graham completed 16 of 21 passes for 223 yards, hitting Lavelli with six for 108. Otto carried eight times for 40 yards net, while Morrison racked up 64 on 12 tries and Modzelewski 43 on 15.

Stranahan Wins Eastern Open Title

By LOU PANOS

BALTIMORE (AP)—Frank Stranahan, who explained he became a professional golfer because it "means more" than playing as an amateur, clinched a $3,000 check today to prove his point.

The 33-year-old strong boy from Toledo, Ohio, picked it up Sunday as the victor's booty in the $17,000 Eastern Open over Baltimore's Municipal Mt. Pleasant Course.

It was the last tournament on the 1955 trail mapped out by the Professional Golfers' Assn. and Frank didn't clinch it until he dropped his final putt in the 72-hole event. It was his first victory as a pro. That stroke gave him a one-under-par 71 for the last round and 280 for the route, enabling him to finish one ahead of Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.

"Ah, it's wonderful," said Frank. Besides winning the world amateur four times and a flock of other amateur titles, he had actually beaten the pros in four open tournaments dating back to the 1945 Durham Open.

But he remained an amateur until a year ago, and this was his first successful bid for cash that went with a crown.

"Playing as a pro means more to me because I know I'm out there every day trying to beat the best there is," he said.

Stranahan, son of a wealthy industrialist, got a big hand from the gallery of about 4,000 when he dropped a putt of about 18 inches for his victory.

Ed Oliver, the veteran from Leominster, Ill., finished third with a 72-282 after lying one stroke off the pace going into the last 18. Fourth money went to Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., who carded a 71-283.

Unbeaten Duke To Play OSU

Blue Devils To Be Stiff Test For Bucks

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Blue Devils of Duke look big and boisterous as they head for Columbus and Saturday's intersectional football date with Ohio State's rebounding Bucks.

The undefeated Devils have hung up a neat three-game streak this year, while Ohio State has looked just so-so—compared with the 1954 powerhouse—in winning two by three. The Bucks, beaten 6-0 by Stanford the previous week, opened their Big Ten title defense Saturday by defeating Illinois 27-12.

Duke opened with a 33-7 win over North Carolina State, followed with a 21-0 victory over Tennessee, and then shellacked William and Mary 47-7 Saturday. William and Mary had lost by only a 7-0 score to Navy, which hasn't allowed a point in three games.

The Blue Devils were ranked 13th in the country last week, and their 101 to 14 scoring record should keep them up there. Ohio State has a 55-38 edge in scoring. A crowd of more than 82,000—perhaps matching Saturday's sixth-ranked stadium throng of 82,407—is expected.

The Duke-Ohio fray is one of 16 interstate contests facing Buckeye college squads this week. Invaders roll in for eight games from West Virginia, North Carolina, Michigan, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Missouri, while Ohioans head for West Virginia, Michigan, Kentucky, Indiana and New York for eight others.

Last week, in 10 interstate contests, Ohio teams broke even although losing five of seven on the road. The Buckeye clubs now have 20 wins, 15 losses and a tie in games with outsiders, leading in scoring by 631 to 494.

Top game in the Ohio Conference sends Heidelberg's defending champs against Capital to determine which will share the loop lead with Muskingum. The Muskies have three straight, and Heidelberg and Capital have a pair.

Courchesne, Perez Will Box Tonight

Bobby Courchesne, a 20-year-old featherweight corner from Holyoke, Mass., and Lulu Perez, a 2-year-old on the comeback path, clash in a television 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Courchesne made a hit in his ninth-round technical knockout of rugged Ton Puleo at St. Nick's Sept. 5 to stretch his unbeaten streak to 16.

Perez former leading 126-pound contender, was drubbed by Carmelo Costa in his last outing May 27 and was dropped clear out of the first 10.

Courchesne's record is 36-3-2 with 15 knockouts. Perez's record is 32-6-1.

Du Mont will telecast at 9 p.m., EDT.

Willie Pep, ex-featherweight champ from Hartford, Conn., keeps on going. Willy Willie meets Charlie Titone of Brooklyn in a 10-rounder at Brockton, Mass., tonight.

Muskingum takes on W. & J. in a non-league event.

Miami, which swamped Toledo 47-0 as it opened defense of the Mid-American laurels, meets Marshall this week. Ohio University, current leader with two verdicts, tangles with once-tied Kent State. Western Michigan an d Toledo, tied in the cellar with two defeats, meet at Toledo.

Here's the week's schedule: Thursday night: Morris Harvey at Youngstown.

Saturday afternoon: Duke at Ohio State, Miami at Marshall, Kent State at Ohio U., Marietta at Hiram, Otterbein at Wittenberg, Wooster at Denison, Heidelberg at Capital, Ohio Northern at Bluffton, John Carroll at Wayne, Bowling Green at Baldwin Wallace, Marquette at Cincinnati, Defiance at Kalamazoo, Central State at Kentucky State, Kenyon at Hobart, Ashland at Indiana Central, Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash, Allegheny at Oberlin, Washington (MO.) at Western Reserve.

Saturday night: Western Michigan at Toledo, Mount Union at Akron, Xavier at Dayton, Georgetown at Wilmington, W. & J. at Muskingum, Findlay at West Virginia Tech.

Spartans Face Irish Saturday

Michigan To Play Northwestern

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan's conquering heroes return to Big Ten football competition and Wisconsin's league leaders go to Southern Cal but the top game in the Midwest this week pits Michigan State against Notre Dame.

The unbeaten, unscored upon Irish will bet a stiff test from Michigan State's young but rapidly improving Spartans in a nationally televised game at East Lansing.

While the Irish try for their fourth straight shutout, Michigan takes on Northwestern, Minnesota is at Illinois and Purdue moves in on Iowa.

Non-conference games find Duke at Ohio State and Villanova at Indiana.

Despite the loss of end Ron Kramer in the 26-2 rout of Army, Michigan shouldn't have any trouble in beating Northwestern and moving into a first place tie while Wisconsin plays Southern Cal Friday night.

Kramer threw such a furious block while Terry Barr was romping for an 82-yard touchdown run that he had to leave the game and is not expected to play Saturday although his bruised chest is not considered a serious injury.

Wisconsin, leading the Big Ten with two victories including a 9-0 triumph over Purdue, can add to its national laurels against the trojans at Los Angeles. Southern Cal was beaten 7-0 by Washington as the Huskies continue making a determined bid to get into the Rose Bowl.

The Spartans, coming off a 38-14 victory over Stanford, could become the first to cross Notre Dame's line. Odds were high that Miami would succeed in that department but the final score read Notre Dame 14, Miami 0.

Michigan state flashed a diversified attack Saturday and picked up a total of 460 yards against Stanford.

Purdue and Iowa clash at Iowa City in what should be the toughest conference game of the day. The loser of this game will be all but eliminated from the race. The Hawks bounced back from their Wisconsin defeat to beat Indiana 20-6.

Another conference clash finds Minnesota at Illinois. Although beaten by Ohio State 27-12, the Illini should make Minnesota their first Big Ten victims. The Gophers were none too sharp in beating Northwestern, 18-6.

Ohio State took out its fury against Illinois following its upset loss to Stanford and might run into more intersectional trouble against Duke. The Blue Devils are one of the South's better teams and drubbed William & Mary, 47-7.

Indiana hopes to score its first 1955 triumph at the expense of Villanova. The Wildcats were whipped by Boston College, 28-14, and shouldn't cause the Hoosiers too much difficulty.

Marquette, 42-0 victim of Kansas State, goes to Cincinnati. Cincinnati also was shut out last week with Xavier (Ohio) administering a 37-0 drubbing.

Howie Fox Slain After Bar Fight

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Howie Fox, 34, who pitched for three major league baseball clubs, was stabbed to death after he ejected three young men from his tavern in the early morning hours Sunday.

Two college students and another man were booked by police. Charges were being prepared.

Witnesses said Fox was stabbed three times in front of his tavern and died crawling toward the door. His bartender Hubert Callahan, 47, was critically slashed.

Booked for investigation of murder and assault to murder was John J. Strickland, 20, a San Antonio College student. Booked as material witnesses were Jack G. Allen, 21, also a student at the college, and Martin Belto, 27.

Strickland had a severe cut over his right eye—caused, he told police, when he was struck by Fox with what looked to him like a miniature baseball bat.

All three made statements to police. Officers pined together this story:

After the fight in front of the tavern, Strickland's companions took him to City-County Hospital, where several stitches were taken above the eye. Then he went to a downtown hotel.

Later in the day, he left and police found bloody clothing in the room. Strickland then returned with his companions and a hotel clerk told them they were wanted by police. They went to the city jail.

The 6-foot-3, 195-pound hurler pitched for Cincinnati in 1944 through 1946 and again from 1948 through 1951. He was with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1952 and the Baltimore Orioles in 1954. The past season he pitched for the San Antonio Missions, a Baltimore farm club, and had three wins in eight assignments. His best year was 1950 when he won 11 and lost 8.

Exposition Begins In Cleveland Tuesday

Thousands Of Lumber Dealers To Convene

Thousands of this country's retail lumber dealers will assemble in Cleveland Tuesday to Friday to attend the largest gathering that their industry has seen. The occasion is the second annual Building Products Exposition sponsored by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association and its 33 federated associations.

Those dealers will divide their time between the seven hundred product exhibits showing the latest in building materials, six management clinics covering new trends in retail yard operation, a precedent setting demonstration of neighborhood improvement and home modernization being conducted by NRLDA and the City of Cleveland and a program of entertainment.

Twelve consumer magazines will team up with local architects and business groups to stage the neighborhood improvement demonstration. If preliminary plans materialize, one feature of the urban modernization program will be the painting of a whole block of homes to illustrate the way that color styling and freshness can glamorize an older neighborhood.

The dealer clinics will offer 42 hours of management know-how, presented by successful retail lumber dealers and authorities from other fields who have studied dealer methods and problems.

Subjects of the clinics are: cost cutting methods of handling materials, developing the farm market, construction component techniques, correlating advertising to sales, modern store layout and consumer credit.

The principal entertainment features include a banquet celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Ohio Association of Retail Lumber Dealers and honoring the pioneers of that association, and an evening program combining a reception, cocktail party, buffet dinner and a film presentation and television panel of consumer magazine editors who will tell about the opportunities of home improvement.

A third evening will be devoted to theater parties.

Dealers in Ohio and neighboring states who wish to invite their customers to the Product Exposition will be provided with special tickets for that purpose. Although the general public is not invited, builders, contractors, public officials, civic leaders, wholesalers architects, realtors and representatives of financing institutions will be welcome provided they obtain a ticket from a retail lumber dealer.

The Exposition will open officially at 1 p.m. Tuesday, following a nationwide network telecast of NBC's "Home" program, featuring Arlene Francis, which will tell about the Neighborhood Improvement Program.

Things To Do Before Putting Tools Away

By HENRY FREE

The sooner one orders his tulip, narcissus and similar spring blooming bulbs, the better and plant them as soon as they arrive.

It is best to get your bulbs in the ground as early as possible so that they will not lie around in bags and dry out, which is one of the reasons many do not bloom.

After all, the bulbs left in the ground after last spring's bloom have been there all summer. They have formed a root system, just as the newly planted bulbs must do if they are to pop up out of the ground next spring.

Not even the chrysanthemums can draw your attention from shabby lawn that is begging for attention. Now is the time to make a new lawn, remake an old one or repair the wear and tear of summer use.

If no major problem exists, the least you can do is to fertilize. The lawn will need cutting as long as the grass continues to grow. However, give the hedges their last clipping.

There are many dwarf evergreens suited to foundation planting, but few are as good as the yews. They do well and are really quite hardy. They retain a rich, deep color during the winter, are seldom bothered with insects or diseases and are easily and effectively pruned.

For height, the form known as taxus capitata makes a pyramidal growth to 10 feet and more. The Hatfield yew makes an oval growth. It will reach a height of six feet. The color of its leaves is the darkest of all yews, almost a black-green. This plant looks best if kept trimmed to about five feet.

Brown's yew is similar in appearance to the Hatfield, but slightly smaller in its habit of growth. Hick's yew is one of the better upright ones, and will grow about eight feet tall. It has broad needles of blue-green color.

It is inclined to make a flat top, which is broader than the base, thus asking for reasonably early pruning.

As the end of the season approaches, stop cultivating roses and perennials. They need a chance to rest and ripen wood and foliage before cold weather. Cultivation will encourage them to grow and the soft new growth will be more susceptible to winter injury.

However, do continue to spray the roses to keep down both black spot and mildew on the foliage. For best results use Caplan, a new fungicide which is highly recommended by the experts.

Hidcote Hypericum is a low-growing flowering shrub that will solve the problem of what to plant under the picture window. It has waxy yellow flowers, in bloom till frost time. Equally impressive is its bronzetipped foliage and compact growing habit. A full-grown plant will get about a foot and a half high.

Fixit Forum

Q—While working in our unfinished attic I accidentally stepped through the gypsum-board ceiling. What is the best method of repairing the hole?—G. E.

A—Assuming the damaged section is between two joists, cut it back to the center line of the joists, using a keyhole saw and old chisel. Then cut and snugly fit a new piece of gypsum board of the same thickness as the ceiling board into the opening. Using a wood rasp, bevel the edges of the opening and the edges of the new panel, then nail it in place. Also nail along edges of the opening. Now conceal the joint, using the standard joint-cement-and-perforated-tape treatment for gypsum wallboard.

happened in the bunker. He was closely questioned for many days after his capture in 1945, he said. But the Russians never gave out his story and allowed doubts over Hitler's fate to circulate.

Linge and Maur were among 1,741 German prisoners returned to West Germany since last Thursday as the result of the Moscow agreement with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The Russians have promised to free 9,626 by Oct. 20, with those from homes in East Germany to be released there.

The balding, six-foot Linge, now 43, said he personally procured 50 gallons of gasoline to burn the two bodies, but more were required. Other points in his account:

Also in the bunker was Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and his wife and six children. Goebbels and his wife ended their lives with a pistol and the children were put to death by injections given by an SS doctor.

Columbus, O., To Erect Statue Of Explorer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 20-foot bronze statue of Christopher Columbus, the famed explorer who gave his name to this Ohio capital city, will be erected today near city hall.

The statue, a gift of Genoa, Italy—the discoverer's birthplace—won't be officially unveiled until Wednesday. That will climax a four-day celebration here which began yesterday and ends on Columbus Day.

Today's events include a reenactment of Columbus' voyage to the New World in his three ships, The Pinta, The Nina and The Santa Maria. The "ships," for this occasion, are three rubber rafts. The crew will be newspaper, radio and television persons. And the idea—a race on the Scioto River.

An outdoor disc jockey jamboree is scheduled in the downtown area. Recorded music will fill the air as passers-by are asked to sign their names to a scroll of appreciation which will be sent to the people of Genoa.

Italian dignitaries will meet tonight in city hall with Columbus officials. Expected here for the celebration are Genoa's Deputy Mayor Giuseppe DeAndre and Egidio Ortona, minister-counselor of the Italian Embassy, Washington, D. C.

A television documentary movie called "Christopher Columbus," featuring film shot recently in Genoa by a Columbus TV station, and a concert on the Statehouse lawn will round out today's program.

Four Italian Air Force and Navy officers will serve as the statue's special guard of honor. The officers are stationed in this country. In addition, a host of Americans of Italian descent from throughout the country are expected for the statue's unveiling.

A Columbus Day parade will precede the statue presentation. On hand will be Edoardo Alfieri of Genoa who made the sculpture.

Plans were also made Friday by the firemen to install a fire hydrant at Cusick's Lake on Rt. 45.

Firemen also decided to sound the siren at 5 p. m. instead of 7 p. m. on Thursdays for the winter months only.

The department issued a reminder to residents that the number to call in case of fire is HA 4-5606.

The driver told police that her dog jumped from the rear seat of the car into the front seat and caused her to lose control of the auto. Owner of the parked car was Wayne W. Wright, 29, of 592 Columbia St. Minor damage was received by both cars, police said.

In another accident, a car driven by Ted Taddio of Pittsburgh and a small trailer being pulled by a car operated by Simon Paul Miller of RD 3, Salem, sideswiped at the intersection of E. ## Ike

Tuesday with Secretary of State Dulles — to keep him from "bubbling over" and to "protect his heart from the effects of his overactive brain."

The President, who will observe his 65th birthday next Friday, met with Vice President Nixon yesterday for the second day in a row, and they set up a schedule for Cabinet members and other top executives to begin visiting Eisenhower.

The 42-year-old Nixon, one of the men frequently mentioned in speculation over possible GOP candidates if Eisenhower bows out, found the chief executive in a gay mood when he visited him with Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's chief deputy.

The President was decked out in a loud bow tie of red and white figures on a dark green background, clipped to the collar of his gold-colored pajamas.

"The President said that he and his morning nurse had been planning that as a surprise for Mrs. Eisenhower for the last three days," Nixon told reporters.

Nixon said the President showed a "vital interest" in national and international problems, and specified "several subjects" he wanted to talk to Cabinet members about. He didn't name them.

And Nixon told a Saturday night news conference "there was no discussion of the future as far as political problems were concerned" in his private talk with the President earlier in the afternoon.

Personal friends of Eisenhower say they expect him to have the biggest voice in the selection of his successor as GOP nominee. They have insisted from the time of his seizure that he will not run again.

Citing principles which guide American foreign policy, Dulles said that "although gravely provoked" by Communist China, the United States has avoided any violence even though "we had the power to take prompt and overwhelming reprisals."

He mentioned the imprisonment of 15 American flyers as an example of Chinese Red provocations. But, he said, the United States "relied upon 'moral pressures' to help the flyers and now all 15 are home free.
